MA Program Requirements

Brief Overview (for complete details see our Graduate Handbook)

1. Nine courses (thesis track) or ten courses (non-thesis track)

   Three required courses:
   - History 7000: Introduction to Historical Methods/Theory
   - History 7050: Introduction to Graduate Studies and Pedagogy (or History 7045 w/o Pedagogy component)
   - History 7060: Research Seminar

   And one of the following:
   - History 7010: Issues and Interpretations in U.S. History
   - History 7020: Issues and Interpretations in European History
   - History 7030: Issues and Interpretations in World History
   - History 7040: Issues and Interpretations in Public History

   plus five or six other graduate courses

2. Reading knowledge of one foreign language
   Can be satisfied through coursework or passing a translation exam.

3. Oral and/or written exams testing student in three areas in which they have taken courses. (Non-thesis track students must include written component.)

Concentrations offered at Masters Level:
   - World History
   - Public History